Reimbursement details vary by market. Please speak to your local Zero-Cast supplier in the first instance for reimbursement coding information.

These recommendations are based upon private and public information including billing descriptors, diagnostic codes, Medicare PDAC information and information from experienced consultants and DMEPOS suppliers. Zero-Cast does not guarantee or imply claim reimbursement or coverage for any specific Zero-Cast product or in any specific amount. The Durable Medical Equipment (DME) Medicare Administrative Contractor (MAC) for your region ultimately determines the appropriateness of reimbursement of a particular product, for a particular patient, given the appropriate diagnosis. Zero-Cast strongly cautions the users of this information to always verify the applicability of a given billing code with their MAC prior to seeking reimbursement for a Zero-Cast product. Zero-Cast products are primarily reimbursable as “off-the-shelf” orthotics and should be coded accordingly. However, in certain circumstances, some Zero-Cast products may be modified significantly by the supplier or healthcare professional in order to specifically tailor the fit or function of the orthosis to a particular patient. In some of these cases, the orthosis may be reimbursable as “custom fitted.” Zero-Cast strongly cautions suppliers or healthcare professionals to ensure that any items submitted as “custom-fitted” meet all the criteria applicable to the appropriate utilization of that designation and related codes.

This information does not constitute medical advice. Information provided by Zero-Cast to customers and potential customers related to treatment protocols, product suggestions or billing code recommendations is provided for the convenience of healthcare professionals who, in their professional judgement, utilize Zero-Cast products in the treatment of their patients. Zero-Cast makes every attempt to ensure the accuracy and completeness of this information; however, diagnosis and treatment must be tailored to the specific circumstances of each patient. The billing information provided by Zero-Cast is subject to change by the appropriate Medicare authorities and, while Zero-Cast makes every reasonable attempt to update this information regularly, the applicability of any information provided should be verified with the appropriate Medicare authority prior to the submission of any claim for reimbursement. Any questions concerning reimbursement should in all instances be directed to the appropriate MAC authority.
